Strategies There are two types of strategies in the game: trees and portages. In a tree, you use a strategy to get to the end of the game. To win, you must have the most points at the end of the game. In a portage, you use a strategy to travel from one end of the game to the other. You may have to take additional time and move in an arc to make it back to the opposite end. Portages require you to cross a river and you can only backtrack once. A portage can be from one tree or it can be from one of two trees, for example, A to D to C to B to A. On the other hand, trees have no such restriction. You can move from anywhere to anywhere. If the starting tree is orange, you can move to any other orange tree in the game. If the starting tree is black, you can move to any other black tree. If the starting tree is blue, you can move to any other
